I have always had huge enthusiasm for every single company that comes onto my show, they wouldn't make the selection otherwise 😊 But this company actually put a smile on my face, the next gen avatars have arrived and they are hiding behind closed alpha currently, but check back at my blog to see when it comes out of closed alpha.

Steve and the team have the next best thing in web communication right here, and it makes the experience so much more rich and fulfilling, this was one idea I had a while back that was one I just wish existed and now it does. Huzzah!
